

ATTENTION: REDUX OR FEN.PHEN USERS

If you have ever used Redux or Fen-Phen alone or with other weight loss medications please notify us. The potential heart valve damage caused by Fen-phen or Redux makes you susceptible for Bacterial Endocarditis when you undergo dental procedures. It has been strongly recommended by the Food and Drug Administration along with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the National institutes of Health that you have an evaluation and possible echocardiogram by your physician prior to undergoing any dental procedures. Failure to diagnose heart valve damage from Redux or Fen-Phen could result in bacterial colonization of the affected valve, necessitating valve replacement.

Thank you for notifying us of this update of your medical history.

Please Circle one of the following:

I have never taken any form of Redux or Fen-Phen

I have taken Redux or Fen-Phen.

Dates Taken:

Patient or Guardian Signature Date